

Notification of a Public Meeting on Inclusionary Housing

The City of San José faces important challenges in providing affordable housing for all income levels, given the high cost housing market and limited public dollars for financing affordable housing production. As a result, the City is exploring other ways to increase the production of affordable housing. One option is to expand the City's current inclusionary housing requirement in redevelopment project areas Citywide. The Department of Housing will hold a public meeting to discuss this proposal and solicit input from the community on key policy considerations for a Citywide inclusionary requirement.

INCLUSIONARY HOUSING

What is inclusionary housing? Inclusionary housing requires all new residential developments to have a certain number of homes and apartments available to lower and moderate income individuals and families.
